

Rods, an element which through empirical understanding of interior design, approaches nature and complements its synthesis, overcoming any aesthetic reservation.

The huge variety of curtains rods made of wood, iron, brass, nickel chrome, nickel mat, bronze, etc in various diameters and with plenty of choices for their accessories (various design, embossed or full of Swarovski crystals, murano etc) offers a large range of choices and applications for all spaces.

A necessary compliment to each internal living space is often difficult to decide how best to hang them.

Curtain rods are a useful and practical choice.

Attractive solution are provided for both simple and more specialised cases such as polygonous windows or openings on curved walls.

Rods with two rails are offered in order to enable the handing of double curtains.

Highly original curtain supports add the finishing touches to the design of any interior.

RODS TYPES

